Academic Consultation for Students

1.9 All academic staff are available for individual student consultations each week during designated semesters in which their teaching occurs in addition to the associated examination period for that semester.

1.10 Student - Lecturer times are advised to students at Orientation and prominently displayed within the campus such as a notice on the lecturers' office door and posted online on the Learning Management System.

1.11 Both full-time and sessional academic staff must have a consultation time of an hour each week during teaching weeks.

- 1.12 Academic staff should ensure that the Academic Program Manager (APM) is advised of all consultation hours at the beginning of each semester. The APM will inform the Registrar of these times which will be published in the unit outlines, the timetable and on the student notice board.
- 1.13 The Academic Program Manager will ensure that consultation times do not clash with the timetable.
- 1.14 Consultation sessions will be held at places suitable for the purpose such as a meeting room, vacant tutorial room, lecturers' office, or the student break-out areas.
- 1.15 Should a student request a private or confidential consultation for academic purposes, the consultation can be located at a meeting room in Stanley College, or any office without any other person present.
- 1.16 Students should email their request for academic consultation via the email address provided on each unit outline.
- 1.17 Students may also request the Student Engagement Coordinator to make an academic appointment for consultation with an academic staff.

Learning Support Consultation

- 1.18 Students may be identified as requiring learning support with the Academic Support Lecturer regarding organisational skills, time management skills, study skills, writing skills and research skills via the following:
 - a. The "at risk" of unsatisfactory course progress procedure
 - b. Referral from another member of the academic staff
 - c. Student self-referral
 - d. Learning support identified at selection interview
 - e. Referral via the Student Engagement Coordinator

Online Support Consultation

- 1.19 Stanley College will train students in using the online Learning Management System (LMS), in relation to consultation with academic staff.
- 1.20 All academic staff and students have access to the LMS through the Stanley College website or the staff and student portals respectively.
- 1.21 Students are encouraged to use the LMS to communicate with lecturers outside of formal classroom hours.
- 1.22 Stanley College provides all academic staff and students with Stanley College email accounts. All academic staff are expected to respond to emails from students in relation to academic consultation within a reasonable timeframe.
- 1.23 Students may be identified as requiring online support via:
 - a. The "at risk" of unsatisfactory course progress procedure
 - b. Referral from another member of the academic staff
 - c. Student self-referral
 - d. Learning support identified at selection interview
 - e. Referral via the Student Engagement Coordinator

Career Support

1.25 Stanley College's Academic Program Managers are available for consultation with students regarding career information.

1.26 The Employment Liaison Officer also links students and graduates with employment opportunities.

Professional Counsellor

1.27 Access to a professional counsellor for, but not limited to, relationship issues, grief, stress and coping, personal problems, drug and alcohol problems, and isolated events involving an individual such as an assault or sexual harassment.

English Language Support Services

1.28 Students may be required to participate in English support classes organised by the Academic Support Lecturer. There are no assessments in the English support classes, although students may be encouraged to complete learning tasks. These tasks are designed to not adversely impact upon the student course study load but are aimed to support student English language skills and hence enhance course progress.

1.29 Academic staff will be advised of a student's participation in English support classes and will be requested to carefully monitor and report on academic progress to ensure the effectiveness of the strategy described in the Student Progress Policy.

1.30 Where students are nominated for and fail to regularly attend English support classes, the Student Engagement Coordinator will be informed to facilitate a suitable course of action.

Learning Resources

1.31 The Stanley College library provides a range of hardcopy and online texts that are up to date and available for loan.
